

Dashboard User Stories

S2/1	Who: As a User	What: I want to view my dashboard
Why: To get a quick overview of my activities and notifications
Then: I am redirected to this page by default. I see a preview of: upcoming sessions, pending tasks, recent activity.

S2/2	Who: As a User	What: I want to easily view upcoming sessions
Why: To rapidly track the number of sessions and when is the next one
Then: I can see the number of upcoming sessions, click on the card to be redirected to the calendar, focused on the time period of the next session.

S2/3	Who: As a User	What: I want to easily view pending tasks
Why: To rapidly track the number of tasks and filter the one in progress
Then: I can see the number of tasks in progress, click on the card to be redirected to the task manager, the tasks already filtered by “in progress”.

S2/4	Who: As a User	What: I want to see notifications
Why: To stay informed about updates and keep track of what's new Then: I can see a summary of the recent activities, all the new notifications received about sessions, tasks, messages.		